Monday, February 26 Blood Drive to Honor Black History Month

To especially honor and respect the history of African Americans, to collect needed blood for all people in San Diego, and to increase awareness that African-American blood donations are vital! Blood types O and B, the blood types of about 70 % of African-Americans, are also the blood types most in demand. Blood that closely matches a patient's is less likely to be rejected and reduces potential complications after a transfusion. Your blood donation can help African-Americans suffering from diseases such as sickle cell anemia, cancer and heart disease.
