

This is the recommended self-paced, professional development program for faculty in the City College Learning Communities. The program contains key online faculty resources from the Washington Center’s Learning Communities National Resource Center*.

To facilitate online review, a web address is provided below each title. Simply click on an address to view the corresponding resource.

For questions, please contact Elva Salinas - Title V Professional Development Coordinator, esalinas@sdccd.edu, (619) 388-3411.

Resources	Rating
1. ‘What are learning communities?’ and other Frequently Asked Questions www.evergreen.edu/washcenter/lcfaq.htm	1 (Poor)	2	3	4	5 (Excellent)
What are learning communities?	1	2	3	4	5
Why have learning communities?	1	2	3	4	5
How are they taught?	1	2	3	4	5
How should we assess our learning communities?	1	2	3	4	5
How do we market learning communities to students, faculty, advisors, and others?	1	2	3	4	5
How can we encourage diversity in our learning community program?	1	2	3	4	5
2. What is Collaborative Learning? www.evergreen.edu/washcenter/natlc/pdf/collab.pdf	1	2	3	4	5
3. Frequently Cited Goals of Learning Communities www.evergreen.edu/washcenter/natlc/docs/Goals_for_LCs.doc	1	2	3	4	5
4. Approaching Diversity through Learning Communities www.evergreen.edu/washcenter/resources/upload/Winter2003-Number2.doc	1	2	3	4	5
5. Designing a Learning Community in an hour www.evergreen.edu/washcenter/resources/lchour/lchour.htm	1	2	3	4	5
6. Designing Integrated Learning for Students: A Heuristic for Teaching, Assessment and Curriculum Design www.evergreen.edu/washcenter/resources/upload/Winter2003-Number1.doc	1	2	3	4	5
7. Assessment in and of Collaborative Learning: A Handbook of Strategies www.evergreen.edu/washcenter/resources/acl/index.html	1	2	3	4	5

